Drinking water meters: Don't install meters

Let us know why: 99.9% of residential property in Methven isn't the cause of the ADC "losing water" its your sub standard water infrastructure and commercial businesses / council buildings that are using more water than the scheme can handle. Already "we" the tax payers are paying the price of the poor water management by the ADC with water restrictions for 6 months a year. Poor business plans, past and presently submitted are completely to blame. Thus not a tax payers responsibility to rectify with increased rates. A complete lack of ADC awareness is to blame and should bare the costs to rectify the poor management of past councils. Residential drinking water meters will not only be a complete waste of money but also a waste of time, for the council and for any contractor stupid enough to work for a council that has no idea what they are doing.

Elderly Persons Housing: Status quo - inflationary rent increases + general rate

Let us know why: Good, let's increase the cost to the elderly and force them to live below national standards because they can't afford to live. Good one ADC

What do you think about our plans for our other projects and activities?: Perhaps not spending hundreds of thousands on making the foot paths "look pretty" in Ashburton and actually prioritizing the money and time into improving the necessities in the region through improving fresh water systems, storm water management, internet and phone lines. I wont even start about the state of the roads as your yet to get one right in the region.
